18. Learning methods:

With the aim of efficient teaching and meeting the set objectives and student competences, the following methods will be applied during the course:
- Teaching by multimedia, active learning techniques and active participation and student discussions;
- Auditory exercises;
- Preparation and presentation of group and individual seminar papers.

19. Assessment methods:

At the end of the semester, students take a written test (the second mid-term test) which encompasses the material covered in lessons of the semester. The test consists of essay questions. A student can receive a maximum of 20 points at the exam. As part of their pre-exam obligations, the students are required to write an individual or group seminar paper which will encompass specific topics from the syllabus. The seminar paper is handed in to the teacher in written form for review and assessment, and is then orally presented. All students take part in writing and presenting the group seminar paper, and their participation is assessed individually. A student can receive 0-10 points for a written and presented seminar paper. In addition, a student can receive 0-5 points in a semester for continuous activity in class.
The final exam is oral.
During the oral exam, the student answers three questions drawn from the curriculum covered in lessons. The student can receive a maximum of 50 points at an oral exam.
In order for a student to pass the course, they need to receive a minimum of 54 points in total, with a minimum of 25 points in the final oral exam.

20. Assessment components:

The exam grade is based on the total amount of points that the student receives by fulfilling pre-exam obligations and passing exams, according to the quality of the acquired knowledge and skills, which amounts to 100 points, and is determined according to the following scale:

Student obligations	Points
Lesson Attendance:	5
