International Scientific Conference Economics of Digital Transformation
DIGITOMICS
2 - 4 June 2019, Opatija, Croatia, Europe

Dear Sir or Madam,

Due to many requests for extension of the deadline, we are pleased to announce that the abstract submission deadline for the 2nd International Scientific Conference Economics of Digital Transformation (EDT) DIGITOMICS, which will be held June 2-4 2019, in Opatija, Croatia, has been extended until WEDNESDAY 01 MAY 2019!

Authors are invited to register <https://www.edt-conference.com/registration.php> and submit paper abstracts <https://www.edt-conference.com/abstract-submission.php> at the EDT Conference website or to send paper abstract via official EDT Conference e-mail edt-conference@efri.hr by 01 May 2019.

Please download and read the attached official Call for papers. For further and newest information please regularly visit EDT Conference website: <http://www.edt-conference.com> .

We would also like to note that, even though our general topic deals with the processes of economic effects of digital transformation, we are also very happy to accept high quality papers that cover more general economic topics.

The theme of this year's Conference is "Smart Governments, Regions and Cities".

We are delighted to announce Robert J. Barro, Paul M. Warburg Professor of Economics, Harvard University as our main keynote speaker. Professor Barro will give a speech on the Impact of Taxes and Regulations on Economic Growth .

Besides the lectures from prominent keynote speakers, we will organize a special session on fiscal and monetary issues in Croatia to spark a lively policy debate.

Furthermore, we would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation and gratitude to everyone willing to contribute to make this EDT conference successful.

We are eagerly looking forward to your papers, enquirers and contributions.

Yours sincerely,

Assoc. Prof. Saša Drezgić, PhD

President of Program Committee

International Scientific Conference

Economics of Digital Transformation (EDT) DIGITOMICS
